> The men connected with it have been selling their tobacco over the floors of other houses in other towns for years and know your point of view from a growers standpoint.

They have therefore not spared the cost in making this house the most evenly lighted sales wareroom in the world, having twice the number of skylights of any other house of the same size, in addition to being electrically lighted. It has a 290 foot front and is 220 feet deep, 2 floors, three main driveways from front to rear, two 20 feet and one 27 feet, in addition to a 20 foot driveway under the sales floors across the rear, connecting the above mentioned driveways, to and from brought $247.50; a pair of yearling 20 foot driveways on the north and and all hope they will soon decide to south sides of the warehouse, for the use of empty wagons leaving without coming through the warehouse. ## KILLING

Here Last Saturday.

Andy Beazley shot and fatally wounded William Denton last Saturday afternoon about six o'clock, the shooting taking place in the rear of the county barns on Paulding street. Both parties are colored and neither up to this time had ever been in any serious trouble before.

Denton was shot three times, two shots entering the head, the other the body, from the effects of which he died about twenty minutes later, while being carried to his home in Middlesboro

A great deal of feelings has existed between the parties for several days, coming up over the selection of a teacher for the colored school in Middlesboro. Both parties were working for the county on the Buckeye pike and had several quarrels during the day last Saturday.

When they returned to the barn that evening and were putting up their teams the quarrel was renewed, what came up at that time could not be learned, as there were no eye witnesses and Beazley refuses to talk under the advice of his council. The examining trial will be held next shooting Beazley gave himself up and is now in jail, awaiting his examining trial.

MISLEADING

Literature Issued By Republican Campaign Committee.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 2.-"Among the misleading literature issued by People have hardly stopped talk- the Republican Campaign Committee is a statement in regard to the In-Angus cattle held in this city last surance Rating Board to the effect that it has "cost the tax payers of Kentucky in three years $77,918.34 still larger that will be pulled off at The statement includes a question What has the Insurance Rating Board done for you"? Said Thomas October 22nd, an advertisement of S. Rhea, Chairman of the Demowhich appears in this issue of the cratic State Campaign Committee

"The Insurance Rating Board does not cost the tax payers of Kentucky a red cent", the Chairman continued 'The expense of maintaining the Board is provided for by a special assessment levied against the insurhas been or can be drawn from the State Treasury to pay any of the expense of this office. The year 1916 practically ended the first five years of the Rating Board, and during that five-year period fire insurance in There will be forty head sold at Kentucky cost an average of $12.50 Saturday morning before Judge this sale, consisting of bulls, cows, on each $1000 of insurance. For the five years prior to the creation of the Insurance Rating Board, the Remember the date and don't fail cost per thousand dollars of insurance was $13.30, a saving of $1.10 a thousand or TWO AND A QUAR-TER MILLION DOLLARS to the property owners of Kentucky these five years.'

"In this reduction the farmers of Kentucky profited to the extent of $120,000 a year, because their rate was reduced 12 per cent. and they saved $500,000 during these five years. The reduction of the whole country for the five years was 90 cents a thousand, Kentucky's reduction being 20 cents a thousand under the National average, or about $400,000 more saved to the policy holders of Kentucky, more than to the people of the other states as a whole.

"The companies re-rated mercantile properties in Kentucky to show an increase of 36 per cent. The Insurance Rating Board compelled the withdrawal of these rates and the reinstatement of the old ones, saving the owners of mercantile buildings and stocks $200,000 a year for two years. Only recently the taking off of the war surcharge on fire insurance policies written in Kentucky, has saved the property owners of the state $2,000 a day. The companies seemed reluctant to take off this charge and Chairman N. O. Gray, of the Commission, cited them to appear before him to show cause why the surcharge should not be taken the Board has saved the state thousands of dollars in rates on its own property, obtained by the correction of defects, and a consequent reducthe entire cost of the administrations of the office since its establishment.'

"The attack on the Insurance Rating Board is only another part of the general Republican plan to discredit any and every action of the Democratic administration in Kentucky. No one is likely to be deceived by it, and least of all, the property owners, whose insurance has cost them in the last five years $2,250,000 less than it cost them the preceeding five years.'

The greatest investment that can be made is in boys and girls. Help the Children's Orphan Home.

STOVES STOVES

Reduce the High Cost of Living

A fuel shortage and higher prices are predicted for this winter. Why rebel at the high cost of living and do nothing to lower it? Last winter there was a reason for not buying anything that you could possibly do without but now there is no reason for not buying what you need and to keep on wasting fuel by using an old worn out stove will certainly not reduce the high cost of

For heating purposes our line of COLE'S HOT BLAST HEATERS and MOORE'S AIR TIGHT HEATERS cannot be surpassed. They give as much heat as any stove and use 25 per cent. less fuel. The government used thousands of these in France and at home. Your boy was probably warmed by one while serving Uncle Sam.

For the kitchen, MAJESTIC AND FAVORITE RANGES stand in a class by themselves. If you are interested in buying a range, it will pay you to see what we have to offer. Our Furniture Department will be glad to tell you about our stoves even tho you do not wish to buy a stove now. We have the largest stock of stoves that can be found in Kentucky. # Taxes Going Up;

Teachers Underpaid

Under Stanley Democratic rule, in the three years 1915-1918, the equalized value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky has increased the enormous sum of $527,273,483,00. During the same period, the amount distributed by the state to the counties to jay the salaries of school teachers has only increased the pitful sum of $45,734,37.

Taxpayers, This Is Your Business

The new tax law making this huge increase in taxes was passed to raise more money for general state expenses, to pay off old debts and to give more money to the public schools. If this law has raised enough money to pay general expenses and to help pay off some old debts, why has the school fund not received a proportionate increase for the education of your children?

Stanley O. K's Pay Cut

In 1918 a Democratic legislature passed a law and it was approved by Governor Stanley, March 18, 1918, cutting down the amount of money for school teachers' salaries from 26 cents to 18 cents, and many teachers were forced to quit their jobs altogether or to seek positions in other states.

The School Teachers' Merry-Go-Round

The records show that in 4b counties in Kentucky, the salaries of school teachers were more in 1916 than in 1917, 1918 and 191b. They also show that in 71 counties the salaries were more in 1946 than in 1917 and 1918. This has forced hundreds of teachers to travel from one county to another seeking better pay to meet the high cost of living. In one county in Kentucky, out of 104 teachers last year, only 22 returned this year. In another county only seven out of 48 returned. In another county only 5 out of 5 returned. In one of the largest and best counties of the state only one rural teacher has not changed location within the past five years.

Holding Up the Teachers' Pay

In the same month that Governor Stanley approved the law cutting down the teachers' salaries, the state owed the teachers for back pay, $548,372.00. Three months later this amount bad jumped to $1,452,837.94. On June 30, this year, the state,still owed the teachers for back pay $658,434.87. In 1917, the first month's salary was paid in October after three and a haif months of teaching. The final payment was not made until August, 1919, eight months after the close of the session. Last year a law was passed to remedy this, but at that salaries are still running late. In addition to having their salaries cut, the teachers also have their pay held up.

Cutting Down the School Year

Three months after Governor Stanley signed the bill cutting down the teachers' pay, the school year was cut from 7 months to 6 months The children were deprived of a whole month's schooling. This year, the school year ending June 30, 1920, was kept at 6 months instead of being put back to 7 menths, thus depriving the children of another month's schooling. Twelve months' schooling in two years in place

Gilbert's "Sore Toe" Book

Supt. Gilbert's "Sore Toe" Book
Supt. Gilbert's printing bill is costing the taxpayers three times what they paid under Governor Willson (Republican). Among the books paid for by the taxpayers at a cost of $15,000, was the famous "Sore Toe" book, compiled by the equally famous Dr. W. L. Helser, whose "Physiology" was ridiculed by the leading Democratic newspapers of the state. This "Sore Toe" book tells little Johnnie how to wrap up a "puncture" in his foot, warns little Jennie not eat meat more than once a day, calls on dad to shave off his whiskers, advises mother to wash an egg before boiling it, and demands the killing of all dogs and cats.

Gilbert's Extravagance

The minute Supt. Gilbert got into office he began filling up his own office, at Frankfort, with clerks and stenegraphers. The salaries in his department have gone up to three times what they were under Governor Wilson (Republican). The Democratic legislative probe committee of 1918 condemned the Bureau of School Inspection for giving salaries to people who did no work, but there has been practical-ly no change. Morrow will change it.

Text Book Commission Farce

The Stanley Text Book Commission changed most of the books in the grades and would have soaked the parents of the children $650,000 more for their books, but the whole adoption was thrown out by the Court of Appeals. Urged by leading Democrats all over the state to also throw out the Text Book Commission, Governor Black turned a deaf ear and by the time a new adoption was made the publishers were so delayed that many schools have been forced to get along with old books, and some of them won't get the new books at all for proper work this year.

The following is taken from an article published by Dr. Benjamin Rush, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and in his day one of America's most noted of The American Red physicians. # WHEAT DISEASES

Precautions Taken to Prevent Spread of Two Dreaded Foreign Foes of Plant.

STRAW AND STUBBLE BURNED

Experts Realize Possibility That Some Infested Spots May Have Escaped Observation - Quarantine Is Avoided.

Prepared by the United States Depart-ment of Agriculture.)

foreign foes of wheat, flag smut and take-all, will not become widespread in the United States. in the United States, The United States department of agriculture announces that the two states where these diseases appeared, Indiana and filinois, have taken steps that will prevent the spread of the diseases from the infected fields and that should wipe out in a few years the infection n fields where it exists.

Indiana officials came to the recent hearing in Washington with adequate safeguards already placed. Shortly after the hearing, Illinois established similar safeguards. All the infected wheat in both states is under contro and will be disinfected before any use whatever is made of it. All straw and stubble are to be burned, threshing machines are to be thoroughly distrifeeted and no wheat is to be grown in infected areas for several years.

But Fight Is Not Over.

Under these conditions full confi-dence is felt that neither of the diseases will spread from the diseased areas in Illinois and Indiana. That does not mean, however, that the fight against flag smut and take-all is over It is possible that one or both of the diseases exist this year in places where they have not been recognized. There is, however, no great probability that this is true. The department of agriculture and its co-operating agencies have been diligently on the lookout for these two diseases all summer and have found no evidences of them except in the two areas. Both flag smut and take-all occur in Illinois and only take-all in Indiana. The experts, how-ever, realize the possibility that some infested spots may have escaped ob-servation and it would not be surprising if diseased fields are found else

In the meantime there will be no letur in the work of preventing either of the diseases from getting a real foothold anywhere in the United States. The federal department is working with the authorities of Illinois and Indiana giving them every possible aid. Its pathologists are energetically studying he disease and its representatives are certain whether or not there are other infested areas and to see that effective measures of control are available if any such areas are discovered. Prompt State Action Prevents Quar

The co-operation of state authoriti ential in order to prevent hardship if further infestations should be overed. Only the prompt action of Indiana and Illinois prevented the placing of a quarantine against all the wheat in those states, a measure which would have meant hardship, not only to all the wheat growers in th two states, but to dealers, millers an consumers. Even prompter state action will be desirable if either of the diseases is found later to exist in an other state.

Neither of these diseases is likely find its way into the country again from outside sources. The departmen of agriculture has established quara ine regulations against all the the world in which either of the dis-esses exists. No small grain can comin for any purpose unless it has been thoroughly sterilized with steam heat it is the purpose of the department say its officials, to make the cleanur of these plant plagues as thorough and as prompt as it did the foot-and-mouth ease of animals a few years ago.

SUGAR-BEET THRIPS HARMFUL TO PLANTS

Spraying Is Most Effective Means of Controlling Pest.

Besides Doing Much Damage in Greenhouse Insect Also Injures Outdoor Plants-Apply Spray on Dull or Cloudy Day.

(Prepared by the United States Depart ment of Agriculture.)

The sugar-beet thrips is an important insect recognized as a greenhouse pest and also injuring outdoor plants, principally sugar beets and sugar cane. The insect is dark brown or black in color, and about 1.3 millimeters in length. The injury caused is similar to that of other species, such as the onion thrips and bean thrips. The plant is attacked by the adults and by the nymphs, or young, in the same manner. The leaf cells are pierced and the plant juices withdrawn, caus ing the cells to shrivel and turn white. When a number of these cells are de stroyed they appear as irregular white or light-brown spots. If the attack is severe, the whole leaf surface becomes invested by these spots and finally shrivels and dies.

Spraying has been found to be the ost effective means of controlling this insect, both in the greenhouse and out of doors. The following solution used in one experiment killed all adult insects and about 95 per cent of the nymphs.

Nicotine sulphate (ounces) Fish-oil soap (pounds) ..... Water (gallons) .....

The spray should be applied to both sides of the leaves; if possible, on a dull or cloudy day. The adults are not so active at this time and are, there-fore, less likely to move out of reach of the spray.

In the greenhouse the sugar-beet thrips may be held in check by the application of a strong spray of water to the foliage. This washes the younger stages from the leaf; and as these are unable to reach the food plant again, they soon die.

VETCH CROP IN HOME GARDEN

Spaded or Hoed Under It Will Assis in Keeping Soil Supplied With Needed Humus.

A few cents' worth of vetch seed planted in the garden each year and spaded or hoed under as a green ma-nure crop will keep the soil supplied with humus and, to a large extent, with nitrogen. The vetch should be kept growing at all times in all available

For example, if early corn or cab-bage are not removed in time to allow for a follow-up crop, vetch can be planted between the rows at the time of the last cultivation. It will then be large enough to spade under in the fall or spring. Another good war to use or spring. Another good way to use vetch is to sow it in the fall or spring hen the garden is being spaded in ration for tomatoes.

By the time the tomato plants are ready to eat, the vetch will be well under way. If the vetch is not more than three or four inches high, places can three or four inches high, places can be cleared at proper distances for planting the tomatoes by turning under a spade or two of soil. Then when the vetch left between the tomatoes is six or eight inches high, it can be hoed in. Since it is green and tender, this is no great task and the vetch will soon rot. If vetch is used in this way, the soil should be inoculated with the necessary bacteria. PUTTING EAR CORN IN SILO 23

Best to Add Some Stalks Because They Furnish Much Sugar Essential to Fermentation.

It has been found practical to ensile soft corn ears without any stalks, but it is better to add some stalks because they furnish much sugar which is essential to proper fermentation. Tests made at Ames on the lowa station show that an immense amount of corn can be stowed away in a silo this way, that it will not spoil, and that it makes an exceedingly rich feed. It should be fed as a concentrate and not as a roughage. The ears should be cut fine and thoroughily tramped in the silo when filling. Do not let any spolled ears get in, or too big a proportion of mature corn, as this does not pack and ensile so well.

What a Difference.

Of French Origin

The prefix Fitz (the son of), so common in England, is supposed to have originated in Flanders. It is remarkable that it is now unknown in France, but it occurs in the ancient documents and chronicles of that country. It was brought to England by the Normans under William the Conqueror.

Jewel Superstitions.

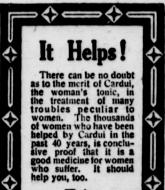

In olden time the sapphire was worn against the bites of venomous animals and to keep away apparitions; the emerald to prevent giddiness and strengthen the memory. The ruby was considered a powerful anniet to ward off plagues and had the "power of making the wearer cheerful."

Raisin Grapes.

Ordinary grapes do not make good raisins. Leading varieties used are the Muscatel, Gordo, Blanco, Muscat of Alexandria and Malaga. The bunches are cut from the vines and placed on trays to sun-dry, being turned from time to time. The proc-ess is simple. Large growers have curing sheds to avoid risk in drying on account of rain. Seeding is done by machinery.

Brass Most Useful Alloy.

Brass is perhaps the best known and nost-useful alloy. It is formed by fusing together copper and zinc. Different proportions of these metals pro-duce brasses possessing marked dis-tinctive properties. The proportions of the different ingredients are seldom precisely alike; these depend upon the requirements of various uses for which the alloys are intended. Peculiar qualities of the constituent metals also exrcise influence on the results.

Rainbow's Formation

While it is true that the beautifulcolors displayed by the rainbow are due to the passage of light through raindrops, the popular conception that the drops are directly in line between the sun and the bow is incorrect, according to scientists. The light enters the raindrop and is refracted and reflected back to form the bow. In this passage through the drop the differt colors are produced which, blend-make our ordinary white light.

CHOOSING BEST

Whichever One the Farmer Decides Upon He Should Develop to Highest Standard.

LARD TYPE MOST POPULAR

At Present Time Animals Weighing From 175 to 250 Pounds Commar Highest Prices—Bacon Hog Is Not Raised Extensively

(Prepared by the United States Depart-ment of Agriculture.)
There is no best breed of swine.

Some breeds are superior to others in certain respects and one breed may be better adapted than another to cer tain local conditions. The essentia point is that after the farmer has once decided upon the kind of hog to raise he should stick to this decision and develop the chosen breed to its highest possible standard. It is not feasible for one individual to raise several dif ferent breeds and bring them to perfection. In making his choice, too, the farmer should be guided by the kind of breeds already established in his locality. If he selects one of these he is not likely to make a mistake.

Two Types of Swine. There are two distinct types of swine, namely, the lard and the bacon types. Swine of the lard type far out nber those of the bacon type in th United States. The lard type is pre ferred by the people of this country consequently the majority of feeders produce a rapidleshed lard type. rapid-fattening, heavy not raised extensively in the United con is more general in those section

The shoulders should be full although not coarse, with full hind quarters and hams carwith full hind quarters and hams car ried out straight to the tail and thick-ly fleshed down to the hock. The flesh should be thick and evenly distributed throughout the body. The size and weight are largely de termined by market conditions. At present pigs weighing from 175 to 250 pounds ordinarily command the highest prices.

Best Bacon Types

The principal breeds of the bacon type are the Tamworth and large Yorkshire, both of British origin. The bacon type is very different from the lard type, being longer in leg and body, with less width of back and lighter in the shoulders and neck. The first impression that this type conveys is one of leanness and lankings. Much emphasis is laid on the develop-ment of side, because it is the side of the hog that is used for the production of bacon. On the other hand large, heavy hams are not desirable or

SHIP EGGS BY PARCEL POST

Weight of Single Dozen of Eggs Will Run From 2 to 3 Pounds, De-pending on Packing.

(Prepared by the United States Depart-ment of Agriculture.)

Average hens' eggs will weigh abou 11/2 pounds to the dozen, or 2 ounce aplece. The weight of a single doze of eggs in a carton properly packed and wrapped for mailing will run from 2 to 8 pounds, depending on the nature of the particular container, the size of the eggs, and the packing and wrap ping used. If the container be a ver light one and the eggs small, the par cel may fall within the 2-pound limit postage, therefore, first and second zones, or 150-mile lim it, would be 6 cents. Most parcels con taining a dozen eggs will exceed 2 pounds but will not reach 3; therefore the postage on them will be 7 cents within the first and second zones. A parcel containing 2 dozen eggs will add perhaps 2 cents to the postage though sometimes only 1 cent, depend ing on the nature of the container an the packing and wrapping.

10 O'CLOCK.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10th,

This is one of the very best farms in Garrard County. Lots of "folks" have tried to buy the Jim Denny farm, but it has never been on the market till now. A Beautiful Home. Splendid residences with sloping lawn and large shade trees right to pike. Barns and all out buildings. Attractive to every passer-by.

WILL BE SUBDIVIDED AND "SOLD" IN SEVERAL TRACTS.

Either 10 or 25 acres with the residence, or as much more as you want. Several unimproved tracts with fine buildings sites. We always sell to suit the purchaser. Railroad station and shipping point right at the farm. A lot of Virgin Soil. Has been in the Denny family for more than a generation. What is this farm worth? The bidders on day of sale will answer, as my contract calls for an "Absolute sale without reserve, by-bid or limit." Everybody gets a square deal at my sales, that is one reason why Swinebroad "ALWAYS SELLS". What is the use of further description.

Look this farm over before day of sale, it will appeal to you. You will want to own a part or all of it. It has all the advantages of Location, Improvements and Quality of Soil. Interesting Old Bible.

One of the original owners of the Trenche Bible, living in the eighteenth century, had made notations on the dy leaf concerning "John, who was born on Friday the 10th of February. 769, at a quarter after eight at night ras baptized at Crossgate church or Smithson-"Come with me to the March 16 following, by the Reverend Mr. Wheeler, who died of smallpox. 12th Aprile, 1760, and was buried the light weeks and five days." ed as far back as 1701-1702.

> at one time finished their recitation of the "Pater Noster" as they went in procession on Corpus Christi day to St. Paul's cathedral. They began in Paternoster room with the Lord's prayer in Latin, continuing it to the end of the street, and then said "amen" at the corner of the row. As used in this country the phrase de-scribes the corner of a church where the elderly members sit and pronounce the word "amen" at intervals.

WOMEN AND BIRLS WHO ARE MEMBERS OF CLUBS ARE ENCOURAGED TO GROW HERBS

Club Girl in Her Herb Garden-Sage Plant Before Cutting.

The old-fashioned kitchen garden was not considered complete without its small collection of "pot-herbs" sage, thyme, and other medicinal and savory herbs. French cooking is noted for its fine flavor, and this is largely cause French cooks excel in the skillful use of herbs,

The United States department of agriculture is encouraging women and girls who are members of clubs organized by extension workers to grow more savory herbs. Not only is the daily diet varied by the use of "potherbs," but in nearly all communities the surplus is easily marketed.

Selecting and Preparing Soil.

Herbs usually occupy the same ground for some years, and should be conveniently located in one corner or one side of the regular garden. is a good plan to apply a quantity of welf-rotted manure to the soil in the autumn and spade it in deeply. If the soil can be trenched or broken two spadings in depth, all the better, as this will break up the subsoil and give the roots more space for development. One good method is to mark off the rows where the plants are to be set. then remove the top soil and place it to one side; two or three inches of manure is then spread in the furrow and spaded into the subsoil. The top soil is then returned and allowed to settle a few days before the plants are set out. One of the main things to considmanent plants together in one row or corner where they will not be dis-turbed. The blennials may be placed next, and the annuals in a collection and a mulch of leaves, straw or ma-nure around the plants during the win-ter. The mulch protects them from winter-killing, and at the same time adds fertility for next season's growth. Sage, taragon, mint, anise, caraway and dill are the herbs found most often on the markets, but in growing for commercial purposes it is best to learn what particular herbs are most in demand in the locality. in demand in the locality.

The general cultural methods are practically the same for all — good. clean cultivation during the summer and a mulch of leaves, straw or ma-

Anise is an annual and the seeds do not retain their vitality after the second year, so they should be strictly fresh when planted. The seeds should be sown indoors and the young plants transplanted. They may also be sown in the open ground and thinned 12 to 14 inches apart in the row. The plants grow to a height of about two feet. The seeds are borne in heads. The seeds are borne in heads which should be cut from the plants when in the garden, but should be sown early in the spring. The plants should be thinned to about 15 or 18 inches in the row. Sometimes seeds are produced the first season, but more often not until the second season. The seeds are used for flavoring bread and pastry. The seeds are saved in the same as those of anise.

The seeds of anise are used for flavoring, especially in cookies, and for sprinkling over cakes when sugar or frosting is used.

The culture and the uses of dill are very much the same as those for caravery much the same as those for caraway. The leaves are-also used for flavoring soups. The tender leaves and stems, together with the seed heads, are dried and used for flavoring cucumber pickles, making the famous commercial "dill" pickles. For home use watermelon rind and chayotes, when treated with brine and dill, make an excellent pickle.

Bage is one of the oldest and most common of the garden herbs. The plants live for several years if protected from extreme cold, and are most castly started by taking rected of shoots from the side of as old plant. In sich sell the plants frow to a great

One plant will usually pro-duce all the sage required by a family The broad-leaved rariety is commonly Two or three cuttings of the young, tender shoots can be made dur ing the season. As a rule, the tender tips of the branches are cut about four inches in length and tied in small bunches to dry. Sage is used especial ly for flavoring pork sausage and in dressings for poultry.

Other savory herbs which are de sirable for home use or marketing are mint, taragon, sweet basil, dwarf basil, coriander, balm, thyme, horehound, summer savory, sweet fennel and sweet LANCASTER.

Curing and Storing Herbs. ost important point in con tion with producing good savory herbs is proper curing. The tender stems, leaves and flowers, where included, should be taken from the plants at the proper stage and then dried in the shade. A very good plan is to tie them in small bunches, allowing some space on the string between each bunch, then roll loosely in a piece of paper, leaving both ends of the roll open so that the air will pass through. The roll may be held by rubber bands or short pieces of string and hung up in the shade to dry. In order to prevent the bunches of herbs stiding ou of the paper the string should be at tached to the nail, or whatever they are to be hung upon, and then wrapped around the roll of paper and tied After being thoroughly dry, the herb should be taken down and each indi vidual bunch of herbs wrapped in par affin paper to retain its color and flavor and also to protect the herbs from dust.

For marketing, the small packages can be packed in pasteboard boxes in any desired number. They are usually old by the dozen. Much depends upor the attractiveness and appearance of the herbs when they are put up for the market. Exposure to dust does not conform to modern ideas. Care she be taken that the herbs do not become crushed in handling

HERE'S A BANKER

INGS FROM BANK AND IN-VEST IN CERTIFICATES

BANK PROFITS IN THE END

Man Who Once Has a Savings Account Never Allows It to Lapse For Long.

Here is a banker who has looked through and beyond the U.S. Govern-ment's Thrift campaign. He has seen that while the success of the present campaign for the sale of Treasury Savings Certificates may for a brief while affect the amount of his deposits, in the end the campaign inures to the benefit of the individual buyer, the bank and the community.

"I invariably advise," said George V. Freund, eashler of the Chizens tors in our savings department can place their money to better advantage by buying War Savings Stamps and the $100 Treasury Savings Certificates.
"The average man who once has a savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in a bank is many content until he in the saving savings account in a bank is many content until he in the saving savings account in a bank is many content until he in the saving savings account in a bank is many content until he in the saving savings account in a bank is many content until he in the saving savings account in a bank is many content until he in the saving savings account in a bank is many content until he in the saving savings account in a bank is many content until he in the saving savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in a bank is many content until he in the savings account in the savings a content until he restores it after with drawing his savings. The $100 Cer tificate will pay 4.27 per cent if held until maturity, a greater interest than we can pay for savings. And when one of our small patrons, by uniting his savings account in our bank with investment that will place him in the big class, then we have a big and per manent patron. That is one reason why the bankers get behind this fall's campaign now being wage; by Uncle And this does not take into consideration the patriotic duty we all owe to one another and to our country."

Mr. Freund is president of the Kansas City Division of the Missouri Bankers' Association.

The quota fixed for the Eighth Federal Reserve District for the four months' campaign ending January 1, 1920, is $5,000,000. Of this Missouri's allotment is $2,000,000, with $500,000 added for the city of St. Louis. Kentucky's allotment is $1,500,000, while Arkansas is expected to raise $1,000,

The indications are that each unit will exceed its quota. Missouri is now leading in sales for September, while Arkansas and Kentucky are making splendid showings.

THE MULTIPLYING DOLLAR.

Money Now, While It Is Cheap, Will Return Manifold, If Wisely Invested.

One of the best arguments for the investment of money in good securi-ties at this time is the point—the full value of the dollar invested. A dollar is worth what you can get for it.

A dollar now isn't worth much cause you can't get much for it. It is today worth in purchasing power 50 cents as compared with five years ago. That dollar will in five years get back to its one hundred cents.

If a dollar is invested now, when it matures it will be worth twice as much, or $2, hence why would not $4.20 invested this month, have, five years from now, almost double purchasing power, in addition to what ever interest may be earned between is old Blue Grass sod. now and that time?

The above line of argument peal to a lot of people, especially those who are very careful with their sav-

If a man has any debts to pay, now is a good time to pay, because they can be paid with cheap dollars, but It is a poor time to contract debts if they mature in four or five years, be cause debts will have then to be paid with dollars which are worth more in purchasing power than at present

Of all times for investment, the present is the best, because of the above facts.

REMEDY IN THE PEOPLES' HANDS

The New York Tribune says: "The testimony of the merchant is that despite high prices the American people are spending money on a much larger scale and for more expensive articles than ever before. The old restraints seem to be thrown aside and money is appreciated only as a means to in-dulge in some new extravagance. The remedy for the high prices lies in the bands of the people and it is thrift."

EXTRAVAGANCE A CAUSE.

Senator Williams of Mississippi add ed his testimony to that already quot ed when he said in the senate: people in the United States are more extravagant that formerly. Thrift and economy must be practiced."
